

SPEAKING 1 - THE €100,000 JOB DECISION

Choose immediately.

JOB A

- €100,000 annually
- 60 hours/week
- high prestige
- excellent promotion prospects
- frequent travel
- limited work-life balance

JOB B

- €60,000 annually
- 35 hours/week
- hybrid working
- high autonomy
- excellent work-life balance
- moderate promotion prospects

JOB C

- €45,000 annually
- start-up
- uncertain job security
- huge learning potential
- possible future leadership role

Rank:

1st

2nd

3rd

Defend your choice using at least 15 target expressions.

Then repeat the decision imagining you are:

23

35

50

65

Would your priorities change?

SPEAKING 2 - DEGREE vs EXPERIENCE vs CONNECTIONS

A company has one graduate position. You are the recruitment panel. Choose ONE.

CANDIDATE A

- Outstanding degree
- No work experience
- Excellent analytical ability

CANDIDATE B

- Average degree
- Two internships
- Excellent communication and teamwork

CANDIDATE C

- Good degree
- No internship
- Strong professional network
- Excellent recommendations

CANDIDATE D

- No traditional degree
- Outstanding portfolio
- Three years of practical experience

You must justify your decision using:

qualifications

transferable skills

relevant experience

employability

professional potential

selection criteria

adaptability

track record

FINAL DECISION:

☐ A☐ B☐ C☐ D

SPEAKING 3 - WOULD YOU LET AI HIRE YOU?

Your organization proposes:

Stage 1

AI evaluates CVs.

Stage 2

AI analyses recorded video interviews.

Stage 3

AI ranks candidates.

Stage 4

Only the highest-ranked 10% meet a human recruiter.

Decide:

APPROVE

APPROVE WITH CONDITIONS

REJECT

Consider:

efficiency

bias

fairness

transparency

human judgment

privacy

selection criteria

candidate experience

SPEAKING 4 - THE SKILL THAT WILL SAVE YOUR CAREER

You may keep only ONE professional capability for the next 20 years:

technical expertise

communication

adaptability

creativity

leadership

emotional intelligence

critical thinking

digital competence

Choose.

Convince the group that your skill is the most future-proof.

Then identify one profession in which your choice might not be sufficient.

SPEAKING 5 - FIRE YOURSELF

Imagine it is 2036.

You apply for your current dream profession.

You are rejected.

"Your professional profile has not developed sufficiently during the last ten years."

What went wrong? Choose three:

☐ skills became outdated

☐ failure to specialize

☐ insufficient digital competence

☐ no international experience

☐ no professional network

☐ poor adaptability

☐ inadequate language skills

☐ weak professional portfolio

☐ lack of leadership experience

☐ insufficient lifelong learning

Now travel back to 2026.

Design the actions that prevent this future.

ACTION PLAN

1

2

3