At the kitchen of a restaurant, Chef Anna is preparing a meal for her customers. Her assistant, Mark, is helping her out.

Anna: Mark, can you grab me the 1. _____ mitt, please? I need to take the pot out of the oven.

Mark: Sure, Chef. Here you go.

Anna: Thanks. Can you also get me the 2. _____? I need to stir the sauce.

Mark: Of course. Here it is. Do you need any cups for the drinks?

Anna: Yes, please. Can you grab a few from the cupboard? And don't forget to boil some water in the 3. _____ for the tea.

Mark: Got it. Should I get the 4. _____ for you, Chef?

Anna: Yes, please. I don't want to get my clothes dirty. And can you pass me the frying pan and the spatula? I need to fry the eggs.

Mark: Here you go. Do you need the 5. _____ for the cheese?

Anna: Not yet. First, I need the ladle to serve the soup. And then I'll use the 6. _____ to weigh the ingredients for the cake.

Mark: What about the mixer? Do you need that too?

Anna: Yes, please. I'll use it to mix the batter. And finally, I'll use the 7. _____ opener to open the cans of tomatoes.

Mark: Wow, you have a lot to do, Chef. Can I help you with anything else?

Anna: Thanks, Mark. You've been a big help already. But can you please get some ingredients from the 8. _____ and heat up some food in the 9. _____?

Mark: Sure thing, Chef. I'm on it.
